

November - December 2019

Like many others at this time of the year, we have been reflecting on the past year. We've worked on some incredible contracts and projects, won awards (more on our most recent one below), and launched new services to better serve our clients. One of those services is Green Asset Management - essentially it is about using our expertise to manage all of your green assets, which are often overlooked but add real value to your property.

Congratulations to Treescape® team member Chelsea Robertson who recently won the 2019 NZ Arb Volunteer of the Year, a fantastic recognition of her personal efforts. Well done, Chelsea - we are impressed!

We are also pleased to announce the formation of the Treescape® Innovation Council. This is an internal group of team members from around the country who meet to brainstorm, share ideas, and launch new processes, systems and equipment to further help our customers. We look forward to seeing their ideas in use.

A few months ago we asked our staff which primary charity they would like the company to support. The overwhelming vote was for the Auckland Westpac Rescue Helicopter - we've supported this charity over the years but we'll make the partnership official this year.

Thank you for all the great feedback you sent in - our team love it, sharing some of it below.

Lastly, thanks to our Australian staff for making the charity event in Greenslopes not only good for the environment, but also fun for everyone participating.

Kind regards

James Fletcher
Treescape® CEO

Our People

NZ Arb Volunteer of the Year

A huge congratulations to Chelsea Robertson who took out 2019 NZ Arb Volunteer of the Year last month. This fantastic accolade recognises Chelsea's commitment to the arb industry, including using her own money and annual leave to help out her arb colleagues. Find out more on our blog.

Partnership

Westpac Helicopter

We have been proud supporters of the Auckland Rescue Helicopter Trust for many years now.

This year we asked our staff which charity they wanted us to focus on – the majority answer was the Westpac Rescue Helicopter, which aligns with our brand values.

Well done

Big Thumbs Up

We don't mean to brag but we've had some amazing testimonials lately. We're proud to share recent feedback from Downer and Councils around New Zealand – click the link to read them.

Community Planting

A day out in the elements, planting trees for our future – there's so many reasons to love a community planting sounds day! More than 100 people got together to plant at Greenslopes in Brisbane recently and it was a fun day out! Thanks to our volunteers and partners.
